TO THE TEACHER

FEW INSTRUCTIONS are given in this book for the evident reason that the wording could scarcely be made simple enough for many of the pupils to read or comprehend. It is, therefore, left to the teacher to see that the instructions relating to position, speed, etc., contained in the Manual, are explained fully to the pupils.

The copies contained herein were all written with a free, easy, muscular movement and at a good rate of speed. Unless the exercises and copies are practised in accordance with the instructions as to speed, size, and movement, good results will not be obtained. If they are done in the manner described, there is no doubt but that the writing of the pupils will be greatly improved.

The large white-on-black copies are for practice on the blackboard; the ordinary copies are for practice on paper.
